PUBLIC HEALTH (PH.D.)

Program Information

Coordinators:
Environmental Health and One Health: J. Bisesi
Health Services Research: S. Datta
Social and Behavioral Sciences: J. Pomeranz

The College of Public Health and Health Professions does not offer the Ph.D. in Public Health without a concentration. All students accepted into the program must choose one of four concentrations: Environmental Health (http://gradcatalog.ufl.edu/graduate/colleges-departments/public-health-professions/environmental-global/public-health-phd-environmental-global/), Health Services Research (https://hsrmp.phhp.ufl.edu/), One Health (http://gradcatalog.ufl.edu/graduate/colleges-departments/public-health-professions/environmental-global/public-health-phd/), or Social and Behavioral Sciences (http://gradcatalog.ufl.edu/graduate/colleges-departments/public-health-professions/behavioral-science-community/public-health/). Please see those program pages for more information.
